Dou't You Want To Go?

Don't you sometimes feel that you'd like to go

Where the bells don't ring nor the whistle

Nor the clocks don't strike, nor the gongs don'

Where you'd have just stillness all around?

Not real still stillness, but just the trees'

Low whisperings or the hum of bees,

Or a brook's faint babbling over stones

Or the songs of birds in the hedges hid,

Or just some such sweet sounds as those

And plunge your soul in a bath of dew

That'd make your spirit good as new

And get out where God's breezes blow,

Sometimes it seems to me I must Just quit the city's din and dust

That would make your drowsy eyelids close.

And bid each care from your mind depart And sprinkle rest all through your heart.

And, say! don't you sometimes want to go?
